DETAILED ACTION

Letter concerning provisional application

Applicant submitted a letter, filed 1/22/03, which stated that a provisional application has been filed for this application. Applicant must submit a supplemental declaration/oath, which claims the continuation. The domestic priority date, when properly claimed will change the 102(b) rejection into a 102(e) rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tracy et al.

Tracy et al. shows, figures 4 and 5, a method and system for presenting item information using a portable terminal 100 (an exterior housing). The terminal 100 has a barcode reader 120 (electronic data input component) and a display 110. Figure 4 shows communications, including price data, through an RF 130 connection (wireless method) between the portable terminal and a POS terminal. Column 7, lines 37-41, shows an electronic marking (attached device identification), which is provided as a means for identifying the location of the bar code by the central processor.

Art Unit: 3627

Note, the phrase "acting as a physical retail product purchase divider" is not given much patentable weight because it is merely an intended use for an exterior housing. In addition, the prior art cited can be used as a product purchase divider.

Conclusion

2. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Katz and Templeton et al. show POS systems of interest.
